

3daysofdesign x Bolia towards a more sustainable world

Bolia will be participating in the annual event, 3daysofdesign, taking place from the 16th to the 18th of September 2021, under the theme "A change to something better", thus reflecting a positive shift in thinking. A revolution is taking place towards a world that is changing and turning towards more conscious, healthy and eco-friendly choices. Around this major topic, Bolia will be hosting daily events and experiences including inspiring talks, electronic DJ music and gastronomic experiences while presenting a new collection in the Bolia store in the heart of Copenhagen, which has been completely rebuilt for the occasion.

The Danish brand, with its creative and active approach based on human values, continues to create personal and professional spaces where life is enjoyable. This work is done with great attention on using smart and sustainable solutions and making sure not to waste the planet's resources. The participation in 3daysofdesign represents the commitment of the brand on perpetual way towards something better. Always with humbleness, honesty, dedication... and creativity.
