

AW21 Collection by Bolia

Wood, sustainable fabric, glass, a recycled plastic chair... The new AW21 Bolia Collection creates a soothing space, an invitation to step away from the fast-paced world and into the world of nature. Each product is handcrafted with the highest quality materials to last over time and be passed on from generation to generation.

When autumn appears, with its palette of earthy tones and burnt colors, it's time to move closer to peaceful and comforting indoor spaces. The shades are calmer, warmer, as wood and tactile fabrics make their appearance. Bolia's autumn is dreamy and peaceful. It brings to mind the gentle rain, the smell that follows, the sun that rises on a beautiful day and ends on a warm dusk. This is precisely what the AW21 Bolia Collection portrays. This series of new pieces is designed by the best international designers and emerging talents, and handcrafted by European manufacturers skilled in their craftsmanship.

Scandinavian design

Bolia believes that great design is not only what we see, but also what we feel. The AW21 Collection is inspired by Scandinavian nature, its ever-changing seasons and calm, earthy colors. Each room, whether it's the living room, bedroom, hallway or office space, is designed to create a peaceful and luxurious atmosphere.

Nature inside

For this collection, natural materials are in the spotlight. Bolia offers for the first time a recycled plastic chair. The home accessories are made of ceramic or transparent glass, structured, sandblasted or hand-toned for unique, touch-sensitive and delicate pieces. The structures of the armchairs and sofas, storage units, tables and shelves are made of solid oak, walnut and ash, available in natural, oiled or stained finishes. All the pieces are FSC®-certified (FSC® C165124). The upholstery fabrics are soothing, thanks to the soft touch qualities of the linen, bouclé, wool, velvet and thick structures they are made of, always STANDARD 100 by OEKO-TEX® certified and made without harmful chemicals. All leathers are certified and traceable, of the highest quality in the world, guaranteeing transparency and animal welfare. The rugs are natural and Care & Fair certified. Brass, untreated steel and natural stones such as marble, Italian travertine or polished concrete are introduced. And lastly, with natural materials such as hemp, cork or paper braid, Bolia remains timeless by using materials that clearly reflect the brand's Scandinavian heritage.

New interpretations

One of the major additions is the Elton - a series of sofas, poufs and daybeds, designed by Glismand & Rüdiger. Their sleek silhouette is enveloped by a handcrafted wooden frame that seems to float above the floor, completed with soft cushions. The timeless lines highlight Bolia's Scandinavian heritage but also the meticulous craftsmanship that brings the pieces in this series to life.

Also new in this collection is the Haven series of minimalist designs for the bedroom. A bed frame, a headboard and three mirrors designed with aesthetics as well as functionality in mind. For example, the bed frame has an ideal space for a coffee or a book surrounding the bed. These pieces created by designers Steffensen & Würtz are intended to help make the home a true sanctuary of tranquility.
