

Lunaria and Scribe Lamp Series

Artistic yet timeless lighting news

Lunaria and Scribe are the two major lighting news in the AW22 collection by Bolia. Expressions of a world in constant evolution, fluid and free, these pieces bring out the best in interiors and adapt to the mood and the time of the day, to switch easily from work to relaxation.

The new AW22 collection is the key to a home in which to breathe, grow, thrive and love. These new pieces are, as always, conceived by a brilliant community of designers from all over the world, driven by the same passion for new sustainable solutions and New Scandinavian Design. From the first sketches to the final product, each design is built to last, handcrafted by some of Europe's finest artisans from the finest and most durable materials.

Lunaria Series

The lighting is a key element of an interior. It defines spaces, modulates atmospheres, expresses a personality and evokes emotions. Lunaria, by Studio Niruk, is one of the new light fixtures featured in the AW22 collection. Named after the iridescent leaves of the Lunaria plant, these sculptural pendants can be arranged both in decorative clusters and one by one. Inspired by traditional Japanese paper lamps, they feature a curved, organic expression that changes shape depending on the viewing angle. The shade is made in a delicately thin fabric that softly diffuses the light.

Scribe Series

The Scribe table lamp by Studio Finna completes a home workspace with a modern yet traditional touch. Its sculptural style is adorned with elegant details, which allow for great functionality: the lighting can be adjusted and adapted to fit the needs throughout the day. Scribe is available in four finishes: cream painted iron, matte antique brass plated iron, matte black painted iron and matte grey painted iron.
