

Track Table: Inviting dining area with minimalist lines

Tactile surfaces, refined proportions and exceptional durability, all with a minimalist and light expression: Bolia presents the Track table. This new piece designed by Studio Nooi is part of the SS22 Spring Collection and is available in two versions: outdoor and indoor.

Spring brings a fresh and inspiring new energy, calling for beautiful moments under the sun and bringing nature into your home. The new pieces of the SS22 Collection by Bolia invite you to meet and enjoy moments together, outdoors or in a light-filled interior. This is why the Track table is available in two versions: indoor and outdoor.

A powerful blend of raw materials, Track Outdoor is inspired by the Nordic landscape in which it blends perfectly, with a tabletop in solid concrete resting on a minimalist grey or black metal frame. Its lines are clean, the details elegant and its proportions refined as well as practical. The materials have been carefully chosen for their durability and weather-resistance. Track Outdoor will pair perfectly with a bench from the same series or a Seed chair, for a light and harmonious expression.

The Track Indoor dining table combines luxurious FSC®-certified (FSC® C165134) solid oak with the same minimalist metal frame for a light, understated look. Its proportions provide a warm and inviting dining room that shines with Scandinavian design and spring sunshine. Track is compatible with two extension leaves, which create a curved addition to the design. The arcs gracefully linking by the two planks when in use, can accommodate additional guests. In its indoor and outdoor versions, the Track table is inspired by Nordic nature and comes to life in a fresh and refined expression of Scandinavian design heritage and traditional craftsmanship.
