

Scribe & Anelli

Lighting news by Bolia

Scandinavian design brand Bolia presents two new lighting products: Scribe, a contemporary wall and floor lamp; and Anelli, an airy pendant. Scribe stands out for its versatility, Anelli for its ethereal expression.

A modern reinterpretation of a classic work lamp, Scribe can be used as a bedside lamp, desk lamp or reading lamp. It features a slender base topped by an adjustable light source. Scribe is available in two versions: floor lamp and wall lamp. Both are characterized by their sculptural shape and contemporary expression. As a result, they blend easily into most interiors.

The Scribe floor lamp and wall lamp are available in four finishes: matt antique brass plated iron, matt black, matt creme or gray matt painted iron. This piece is designed by Studio Finna, a Finnish design studio founded by Anni Pitkälä and Hanna-Kaarina Heikkilä, whose work has been exhibited in several countries.

Anelli is a luminous expression of lightness. Although voluminous, this pendant retains an airy, almost ethereal feel. With its rings of oak or birch veneer, it has a natural, simple expression, in line with the New Scandinavian Design aesthetic of Bolia. The rings are delicately suspended by a fine string. The projected light is soft and dreamy.

Anelli is available in two sizes, ideal for creating harmonious compositions. These pieces reflect the unique touch of the German designer Meike Harde: delicate structures, a certain transparency and subtle details in pure shapes. Her designs aim towards an aesthetic synergy of material and form
