

Spring is coming Outdoor designs by Bolia

Soon, the cold will give way to mild temperatures and blue spring skies will begin to appear. As nature comes back to life, Bolia presents outdoor furniture for calm, inviting outdoor spaces. The Orlando Outdoor sofa, the Como Outdoor coffee table, the Track Outdoor table, and the Seed Outdoor chair – all designed with form, function, and longevity in mind.

The warm weather is coming back and brings a renewed energy, familiar sounds, and scents, inviting you to make new, beautiful memories under the sun. The Bolia Outdoor Collection is an invitation from nature to enjoy a spring season full of optimism and positive perspectives. To create an inviting outdoor refuge, the Danish brand offers a selection of seating and tables designed for the outdoors. Their elegant and modern silhouette is designed with the highest quality materials for excellent resistance to wind, weather, and UV.

Initially designed for indoor use, then launched in 2020 in an outdoor version, the Orlando Outdoor O2 modular sofa is ideal for enjoying convivial evenings or peaceful moments in the utmost comfort. Designers Glismand & Rüdiger have come up with a system of modules that can be used to create sofas of all sizes in dark grey, light grey and beige for all kinds of outdoor spaces.

Simple yet sophisticated, the Como Outdoor coffee table is designed with the same elegant sleekness as the original indoor model. Its top is made of vibrated concrete in a sand colour or dark grey in matte finish. Its materials and lines perfectly blend with natural and modern environments.

Ideal for lunches under the sun, the Track table creates a luxurious dining area with its minimalist lines. On a patio or by the pool, this Studio Nooi piece features a vibrated concrete tabletop which soon comes in an FSC® certified teak version for a different, more warm expression.

The modern design language of the Seed chairs blends perfectly with the lines of the Track table. This versatile series of outdoor chairs designed by the Danish studio Hans Thyge & Co is available in several versions – with or without armrests, pebble grey or black – that can be mixed and matched as desired. Designed with exceptional comfort, the molded seat is made from recycled plastic. UV and weather resistant, the Seed chairs are ideal for outdoor use.

Bolia is also pleased to announce the upcoming release of its new Track Outdoor sofa. Adopting the same minimalist design as the eponymous table, the sofa will be available as part of the SS23 collection launched in March and will complement the brand's growing outdoor collection.
